What it is used for

Cutlery such as spoons, forks, and knives is used for food preparation or eating and requires hygienic handling.

How to handle

- Inspect cutlery for cleanliness, rust, cracks, loose handles, and sharp-edge damage.
- Wash and sanitize according to the food-service procedure before use.
- Handle knives by their handles, carry them safely, and keep sharp edges away from hands.
- Remove damaged items from service and separate clean cutlery from used items.

Storage

- Store clean, dry cutlery in designated covered drawers or containers.
- Keep knives secured separately with blades protected.
