Covers these lab items: Sponge; Sponge (soft, for finishing); Sponges

What it is used for

Sponges absorb liquids and support cleaning, finishing, and other approved practical tasks.

How to handle

- Select a sponge suitable for the surface and intended application.
- Inspect for dirt, tearing, residue, or deterioration before use.
- Use separate sponges for different tasks, especially food-contact, cleaning, and personal-care activities.
- Rinse and clean reusable sponges after use and allow them to dry completely.
- Replace sponges that develop odours, mould, or persistent contamination.

Storage

- Store clean, dry sponges in a ventilated area.
- Keep task-specific sponges labelled and separated to prevent cross-contamination.
