Covers these lab items: Seed boxes

What it is used for

Handle seed boxes to keep seeds organised and protected before sowing.

How to handle

- Check boxes for cleanliness, dryness, and damage before use.
- Label each box with seed type, variety, batch, and date as applicable.
- Keep different seed lots separate to prevent mixing or cross-contamination.
- Avoid exposing seeds to moisture, direct sunlight, and pests.

Storage

- Store seeds under the temperature and humidity conditions recommended for the species.
- Keep boxes closed, labelled, and raised off damp floors.
